MRS. GRACE JAMES

For her untiring interest in our happiness and growth, her understanding of our many problems, and her faithful encouragement to us in our search for knowledge, we, the seniors of 1955, proudly dedicate our section of the BLUE and GOLD to Mrs. Grace James.

One of Mrs. James' activities at Gray is that of dramatics coach.

Honors

Affirmative and negative debating teams winning the triangular debates... band and mixed chorus getting superior ratings in district contest... boys' varsity and junior varsity basketball teams capturing city championships... girls' varsity winning speedball and basketball city championships... boys' varsity football tying for second place in the AA conference standings... winning nine first places, four second places, and three third places in city-wide contest.

Taking outstanding honors in football are Gary Carter, Ronnie Rierson, and Bobby Jones, who were selected for the All-City team. Ronnie was also chosen as a member of the All-State team.

Making top ratings in the District Music Contest are Ronnie Brown, excellent; Dee Dorsett and William Campbell, superior.

Nancy James was chosen as Gray's 1955-56 D.A.R. representative. Also as winner of the World Peace Contest she received a trip to New York City.

Members of the All-City basketball team are Bill Ellington, guard; Henry Fishel, forward; and Ray Wright, guard, who was absent.

Are we winning or losing?

Doing their part to keep the grounds clean are A. Pike, B. Parker, P. Redding, S. Woodcock, and P. Sloan.

The "Blue Goose", an integral part of Gray, what would we do without it?

ere come our heroes!

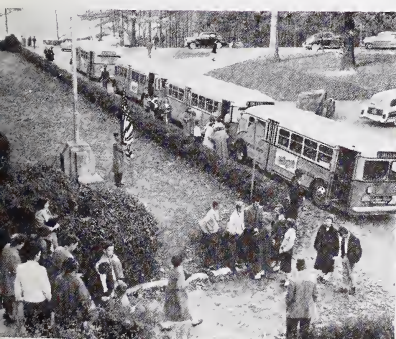

Sue Wood and Sandra Rose finish a Christmas bulletin board to be entered in the N.H.S. contest.

Harold Cole and Mitzi Reavis leave the courts after an afternoon of tennis.

Brownie has been our faithful janitor since the school was built in 1920.

This is the end of a perfect day.

Driving Class members: J. Sattenfield, R. Fish, E. Farley, and S. Bates are ready to leave for a test run with the instructor, Mr. L. H. Lancaster.

PUBLICATIONS

HANES HI RADA CO-EDITORS

Co-editors of the HANES HI RADA, Barbara Barlow and Rachel Andrews prepare a "dummy" for the newspaper.

The publications of Hanes High School are the HANES HI RADA, the school newspaper, and PURPLE AND GOLD, the school yearbook.

All editorial work for the school paper is done by the RADA staff with co-editors editing stories, planning pages and proof-reading.

The yearbook editors began their work in the fall by taking pictures and planning pages.

Both publications are judged each spring at the Southern Inter-scholastic Press Association in Lexington, Virginia.

Miss Betty Byrd Barnette is advisor for both publications.

PURPLE AND GOLD EDITORS

Carolyn Blackwood and Jerry Hutchins, Co-editors, and Willa Lee Brown, Editor-in-chief, discuss final plans for the annual.

NEWSPAPER STAFF

Preparing for a new edition of the newspaper are Bill Hauser, Frances Sides, Vicki Brinegar, Margaret Lindsay, John Ashburn, Ray Tysinger and Mary Cathryn Tullock.

ANNUAL STAFF

LATIN CLUB OFFICERS

LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club was established to promote a better understanding and knowledge of the Latin language in Hanes High School. The club is based on the belief that Latin is international and is a bond between nations.

The Latin Club membership is made up of students who are taking or have taken Latin. Officers elected for this year were President, Almeta Wall; Vice-president, Betty Jo Blackwood; Secretary, Betty Conrad; Treasurer, Sue Hightshoe.

Some of the club's activities for this year included candy sales at the semi-annual carnivals, buying club pins, parties at Christmas, Valentine's Day and Easter, and many other activities. The faculty advisor is Miss Eva Logan.

Dramatic students discuss instructions for "It's A Small World."

The annual Christmas Pageant is the largest production of the year.

DRAMATICS CLUB

This year of progress was highlighted by tryouts and rehearsals for Oh, Auntie, The Midnight Ghost, It's a Small World, the annual Christmas Pageant, and The Jewelled Cross, which was the contest play presented at the Carolina Playmakers Festival in Chapel Hill. Prompters, make up committee, publicity, stage crews, and student directors assisting Mrs. Thornton did outstanding work for these productions. Hours of skill and planning were combined to make the scrap book, which won honor for Hanes at Chapel Hill. The informal monthly club programs included pantomimes, readings, and skits by active point earners. The successful year climaxed by the annual spring banquet which is sponsored by the Masque and Gavel.

Helpful advice is given during a play rehearsal by Patsy Martin, Vice-president, Charlotte Brown, Treasurer, Jerry Hutchins, President, and Joan Warren, Secretary.

FLAG BEARERS

Jean Martin, Charlotte Brown, Carolyn Gentle, Peggy Kreger, and Rita Shepard practice before a football game.

The Hanes High Band is composed of the marching band and the concert band. Band activities included marching and putting on band shows during the halftime at all home games and some out of town games. The band also marched in the Christmas parade, the Piedmont Bowl parade, and the Armed Forces Day parade.

Each spring the concert band, which includes many students who cannot arrange their schedules to be in the marching band but practice in after-school periods, play in the music contest. The band received a rating of "Excellent" at the 1954 district contest in High Point.

Officers for the year were: President, John Baxley; Vice-president, Bill Hauser; Secretary and Treasurer, Betty Conrad; and Director, Mr. Ralph Walker.

The Hanes high-stepping Majorettes are Linda Snyder, Eleanor McGee, Nancy Bouknight, Carolyn Blackwood, chief: Pat Smith, Jane Sweetman, and Nancy Hiatt.

SENIOR COUNCIL

The Senior Council, consisting of twenty students, is the governing body of the Teen-age Club. Its purpose is to plan and sponsor extra-curricular activities for the members of the club, which presently consists of two hundred students.

Membership in the Senior Council is decided by the majority vote of the student body at an annual dance held in the spring. The officers for the year were Bill Hauser, President; Tommy Ratledge, Vice-president; Charlotte Brown, Secretary; Vicki Brinegar, Treasurer; and Miss Mary Mitchell, advisor.

This year the Senior Council bought a new record player for the Dragon's Den, which was a big achievement for the club. Several activities sponsored by the council were a Back-to-school Dance, a Chicken Stew, a Pot-luck Supper, a Masquerade Ball, a Charity Dance, a swimming party, the annual spring dance, and dances in the old gymnasium following the home football and basketball games.

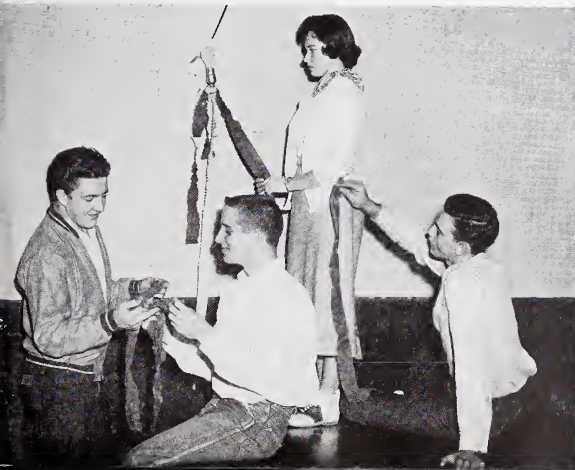

Completing plans for a Senior Council social are Bill Hauser, President; Vicki Brinegar, Treasurer; Tommy Ratledge, Vice-president; Miss Mary Mitchell, advisor; and Charlotte Brown, Secretary.

HI-Y

The Hi-Y is a high school boys club sponsored by the local Young Men's Christian Association, where the meetings are held.

The club members select the students who are to be inducted into the club in their annual or semi-annual induction. They are selected on their character, scholarship and sportsmanship in the school.

The mottoes of the club are "clean speech, clean mind, clean living."

The Hi-Y participates in the Hi-Y basketball tournament each year. The officers for the past year have been Charles Mitchell, Toso Hauser, Jerry Brinegar, and Ray Tucker.

SPONSORS

Awaiting the boys' approval are Hi-Y Sponsors Carol Williams, Kay Caudle, and Carol Carter.

OFFICERS

Jerry Brinegar, Sec.-Treas.; Ray Tucker, Chaplain; Toso Hauser, Vice-pres.; and Charles Mitchell Pres., discuss display in Library.

PROJECT

T.D. Shermer, Dwight Cartner, Gerald Hampton, Bobby Mayberry, Vincent Hedrick, Sam Moser, and Jerry Hutchins prepare for the club's quarterly paper drive.

Ray Tucker, Bill Hauser, Larry Clinard, and Bill Owens discuss the basketball programs.

KEY CLUB

The Key Club is made up of boys who render outstanding service to the school. It is the most active of all the school service clubs.

Some of the major projects for this year included scrap paper and metal drives, a clean-up drive, and a column in each issue of the school paper honoring the person who had rendered the most service to the school. Selling programs at basketball games and selling advertisements for the programs were other services.

For the development of spirit, mind and body, the members participate whole-heartedly in all projects and activities of the club.

The officers for this year were Jimmy Heath, president; Bill Hauser, vice-president; Jerry Brinegar, secretary; Ray Tucker, Treasurer; and Jim Early, Chaplain.

COUNCIL OFFICERS

The Student Council is the oldest and highest body of our Student Co-operative Government. It is the purpose of the members of the Council to establish and maintain by precept and example high standards of honor and moral responsibility. To put these duties into practice, the Council has the right to try any student who has violated our Honor Code. The Honor Code is a standard by which Reynolds High School students, as intelligent and responsible, must abide.

During the year 1954-55 the Council spent much of its time on the improvement of the school organization. The revision of our constitution and student handbook were the most outstanding improvements. After three years of hard work, the Council presented the revised constitution to the student body for approval. The consequent overwhelming number of votes cast for the new constitution was indeed gratifying to those of the Council who spent many hours on its preparation.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Lawrence Davis, Sec.; Pat Kelly, Speaker Protem; Mary Frances Cunningham, Speaker; Nancy West, Treas.

The House of Representatives for 1954-55, sponsored by Mrs. Frost, Miss MacRae, and Mrs. Moser, was headed by Mary Frances Cunningham, speaker; Pat Kelly, speaker pro-tem; Lawrence Davis, secretary; Nancy West, treasurer. These officers and one elected member from each homeroom composed this organization.

The first duty of the House of Representatives is to encourage the students to take pride in the appearance of the buildings and grounds. The second is to discourage harmful, inconsiderate actions, such as using the wrong steps, breaking in the lunch line, and scuffling or running in the hall. Those violating the rules of the House are brought before the House Court, which is made up of the House officers from each grade.

This year's activities included a chapel program explaining the rules and make-up of the House to the eighth grades, and a new students' party, jointly sponsored by the House, the Student Council, and the Honor Society.

The Brevard Hoover Chapter of the National Honor Society was organized in Reynolds High School in 1922 for the purpose of recognizing those students who have been outstanding in scholarship, leadership, character, and service. It is one of the major projects of this organization to promote these four ideals among the members of the entire student body.

Among its other projects, the Honor Society each year sponsors the first devotional chapel with Mr. Joyner as speaker. Two elaborate and impressive inductions are held each year to which parents of all the inductees are guests. The Chapter participates actively in the state convention, submitting a scrapbook of its activities. The Brevard Hoover Chapter has, for several years won first place in this state-wide competition.

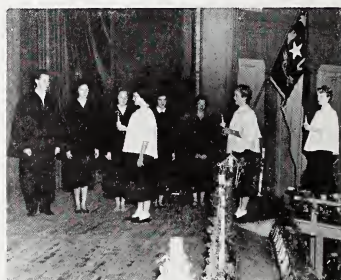

The chapter held its regular meetings each Wednesday morning at eight o'clock. This year's officers were Susie White, president; Grace Wessells, vice-president; Elizabeth Eifird, secretary; Betsy Fulp, treasurer; Lou Linton, devotional chairman. The faculty sponsor was Mrs. Marjorie Stephenson.

Betsy Fulp, Elizabeth Eifird, and Joe Goodman discuss plans for college with representatives on College Day.

The Honor Society helped give a party in the library for the new students.

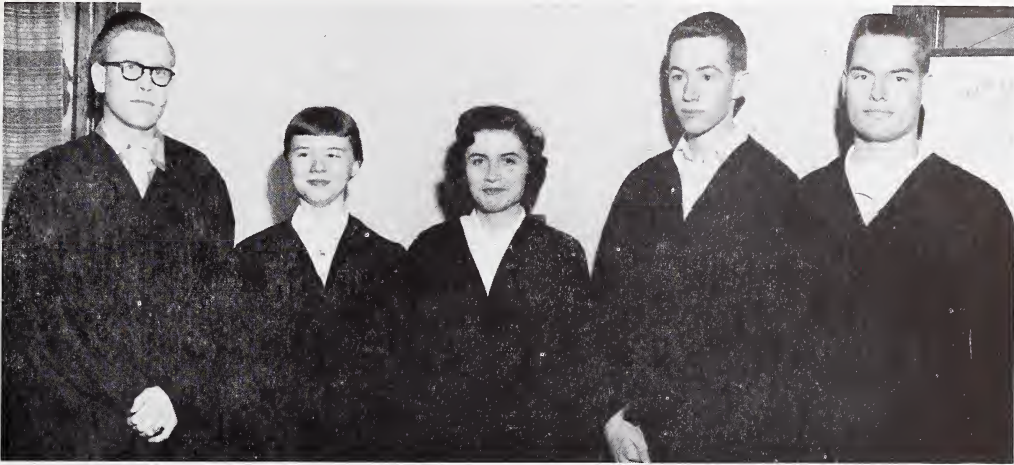

Three of the new members tapped in the fall induction cross the stage to take their pledge.

BLACK AND GOLD

This year the Black and Gold staff was headed by Julie Shore and Mona Cameron, editors-in-chief. Other officers contributing to the success of the year book were the senior editors, Bennie Wilmoth and Weezie Hill; the junior editors, Judy Staley and Merrilie Davis; the faculty editors, Emerson Wall and Helen Nicholson; and write-up editor, Janice Cornwell. These people met frequently with the editors from Gray and Hanes High Schools to discuss their plans. Under the leadership of Nina Walker the business staff collected the advertisements from the different business concerns. Thus, with the work of many students, the '54-'55 annual was printed.

Pine Whispers

Pine Whispers '54-'55 year got off to a successful start with Mr. Walter Montross in charge of the print shop and Mrs. Elizabeth Ritter acting as journalism advisor.

Betsy Fulp and Lou Ann Linton headed Pine Whispers as Editor-in-Chief and Managing Editor respectively.

Bill Pfefferkorn and Nancy Turner gave us the sports news on the final page of each issue.

Barbara Herman and Ann Griffin worked hard to exchange Pine Whispers with various high schools in the U. S.

The State Press Conference at Carolina and the Interscholastic Press Conference in Virginia were only a few of the things which kept the staff busy.

KEY CLUB

The Key Club this year again has proven to be the outstanding honor and service club at Reynolds. The officers were Bill Pfefferkorn, president; Lee Bryant, vice-president; Ward McKeithan, recording secretary; and Richmond Rucker, treasurer.

The Key Club Convention is discussed throughly by these members.

Wielding mops and brooms the Key Clubbers clean the landing.

From the big homecoming weekend last fall to the Follies this spring the year has been filled with Key Club projects. None of us will ever forget the Saturday mornings over at school. Mr. Nash Hardy, our sponsor this year, did a great job. We shall never forget the fun and fellowship of the Key Club of '55.

SENIOR SERVICE CLUB

One of the many jobs of the S. S. C. was keeping the lunch room clean.

During Christmas S.S.C. members entertained the teachers at the annual tea. Soon after the holidays were over new members were inducted. The fortunate juniors this year were Steve Mauldin, Henry Johnson, Billy Joe Parrish, and Hugh Wilson. These boys will carry on next year.

When R.J.R. played Asheville in February the Senior Service Club again sponsored Homecoming ceremonies in honor of the senior basketball players. A dance followed the game.

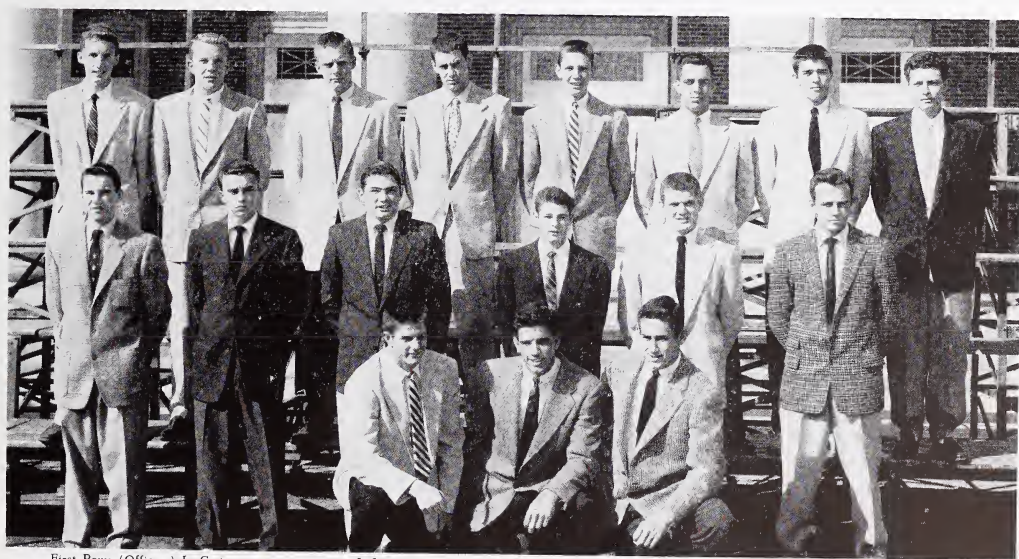

Under the capable leadership of Jim Legette, president Dick McNeil, vice-president; Larry Carter, secretary-treasurer; and Mr. Sifford, sponsor, the Senior Service Club had an active year.

Members of the S.S.C. spent many Saturdays cleaning the courts and the blinds in the library. Each month they sponsored a Student and Teacher of the Month.

Fall activities included sponsoring dances, bonfires, and the Homecoming parade. Every Friday at school and before the football game the boys took charge of displaying the "Demon."

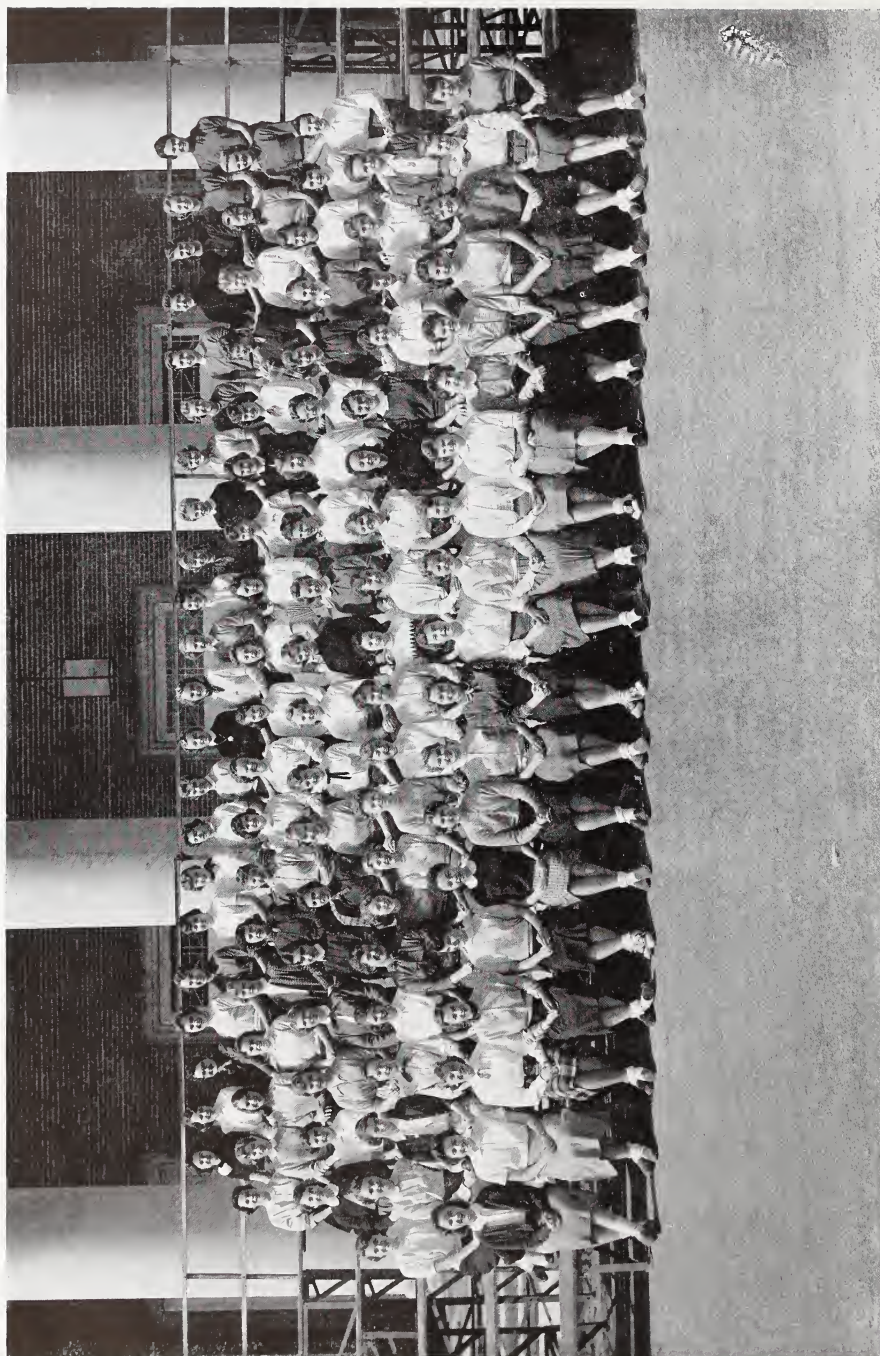

The officers, Dick McNeil, Jim Legette, and Larry Carter discuss plans for a new project.

COLLEGE CLUB

The College Club, which consisted of 101 senior girls, met each Thursday morning during regular club period. Being one of the most outstanding clubs in our school, it helped the members in choosing which college to attend and in preparing for college life.

In order for each girl to get a great benefit out of the club, every program was carefully planned by the program chairman. Some of the speakers for the programs included Dr. Ivy Hickson of Salem College speaking on "The College Program," Rev. Rupprecht of Saint John's Lutheran Church speaking on "The Spiritual Background of College Life," and Miss Weaver, our own adviser, speaking on various helpful phases of college life.

One of the most delightful traditions of our club was the distribution of Christmas cards to the teachers and students of our school.

A deserving girl in the club was presented a one hundred dollar scholarship on the night of graduation. The money for this award was raised by the members of the club. After the presentation of diplomas the club held open house for the graduates, their families, their dates, and Reynolds High faculty.

Thanks should be given to Miss Weaver, our sponsor, who has been so helpful this year, and to the officers, for their untiring efforts.

The Senior Hi-Y, one of the many organizations sponsored by the Young Men's Christian Association, had a busy and fun-filled year. Under the leadership of president, Dick McNeil; vice-president, Larry Carter; secretary, Sonny Lacy; treasurer, Bob Bender; and chaplain, Hank Elkins the members spent many hours at work and play. Included in the activities for '54-'55 were devotional chapel programs, hayrides, and dances.

Early in the year the club chose its sponsors. Joanna Carter, Marcia Warford, Vicki Grubbs, and Kay Crabtree were the girls selected to serve in this capacity.

Each member feels that this organization has played an important part in his development and that the fellowship experienced by participation in it has been enriching. This fellowship will long be cherished, and the fun had together will never be forgotten.

Hi-Y Sponsors

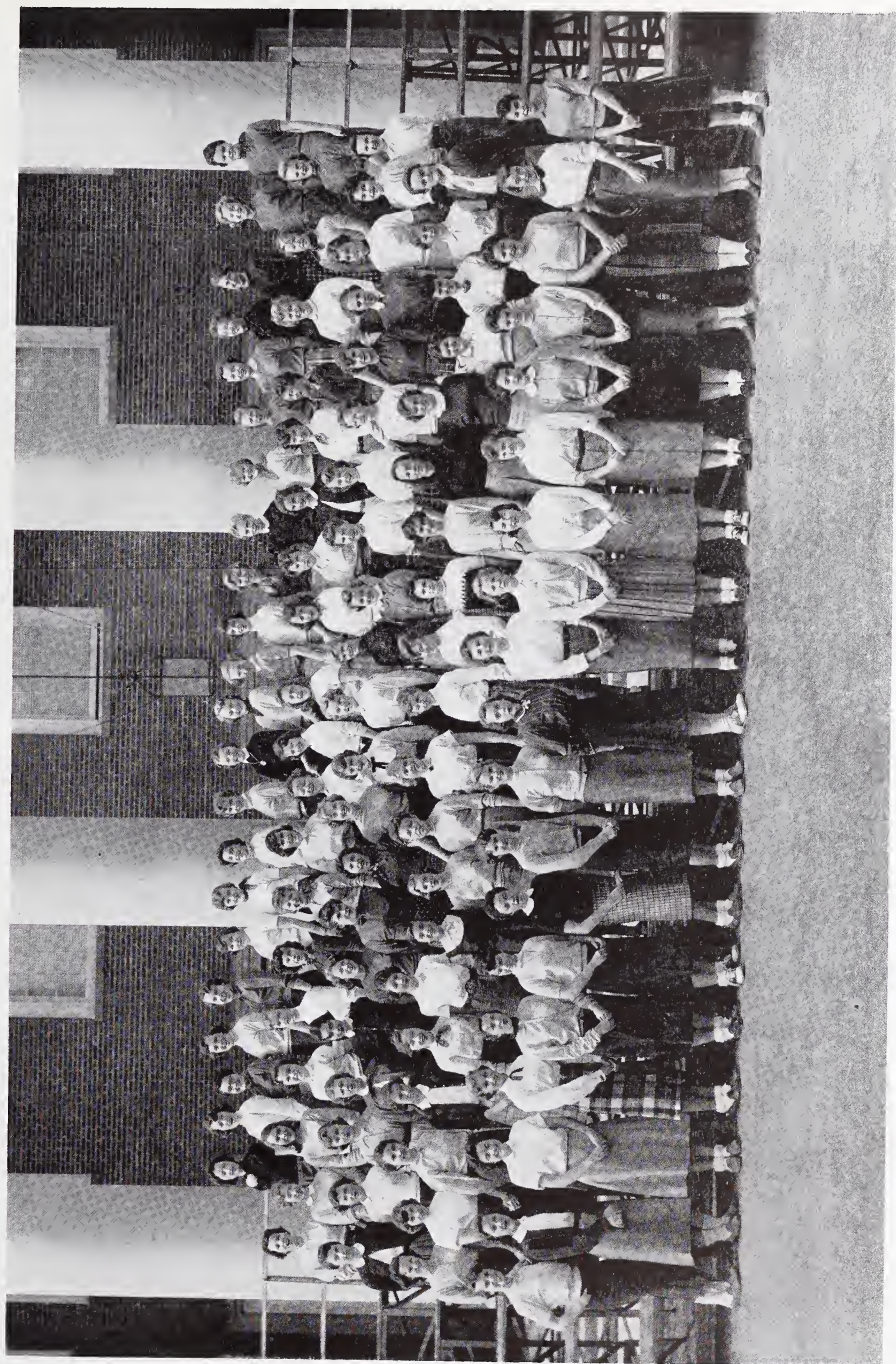

Marcia Warford, Kay Crabtree, Vicki Grubbs, and Joanna Carter were elected sponsors.

A group of Thespians meets with Miss MacRae to discuss plans for the contest.

Tommy Colvin, Patsy Keicher, and Merrillie Davis go over the script for their play.

Under the co-sponsorship of Miss Catherine MacRae and Miss Ruth Good the Dramatics Club, better known as the Thespians, provided the highlights in drama and comedy for 1954-55.

At their first meeting the Thespians elected the officers who have served them so capably throughout this year. They are Bill Darsey, president; Anne Miller, vice-president; Joan Honeycutt, secretary; Faye Harris, treasurer; and Marilyn Pulliam, scribe. Bill was well qualified to head the group because he spent his summer learning make-up and staging and acting in "Unto These Hills." Joan played roles in two of last year's plays; while Ann, Faye, and Marilyn did costumes, make-up, and directing, respectively.

The season's first production was "The Sisters MacIntosh", a rollicking comedy starring Merrillie Davis, Patsy Keicher, and Tommy Colvin. Joan Honeycutt stepped from in front of the footlights to a new role as student director. Serving under stage manager Dick Buell as heads of the various committees were Bruce Brooks, Katherine Isenhower, Bill Darsey, Mike Sprinkle, and Binnie Pulliam. If the applause was any indication, the play was a big hit.

The Thespians combined with Mr. Water's voice groups to present a Christmas pageant before the student body. The tableaux, done in pantomime, and the inspirational singing of the chorus left everyone with the Christmas spirit.

Climaxing the busy year was the annual trip to the Carolina Drama Festival. The trip home left the seniors regretfully thinking that it was their last year, while the underclassmen were hopefully looking forward to more exciting times as Thespians.

MONOGRAM CLUB

The Monogram Club, made up of all the boys who have won their letter in a varsity sport, had a most successful year. The officers this year are Jim Spach, president; Lee Bryant, vice-president; Larry Carter, secretary; and Bob Reed, treasurer.

During the fall the club sold ribbons for the football games and this winter they were in charge of all the home basketball games.

The chapel program put on by the Monogram was one of the best all year.

The Black and Gold game was the big project for the year. With the club in charge the goal was topped by a thousand dollars.

Our sponsor for the year has been Mr. John Tandy, who was an inspiration and shining example to all of us.

Petey Laurence, Sonny Lacy, Jim Legette, and Larry Carter make plans for the Black and Gold campaign.

Bill Pfefferkorn, Bob Rollins, Bob Reed, Lee Bryant, and Johnny Hondros map out the clubs' plans.

The French Clubs at Reynolds are composed of students who take first and second year French. They meet during the regular class period twice a month. The sponsors of the group are Mrs. Fearrington and Mrs. White.

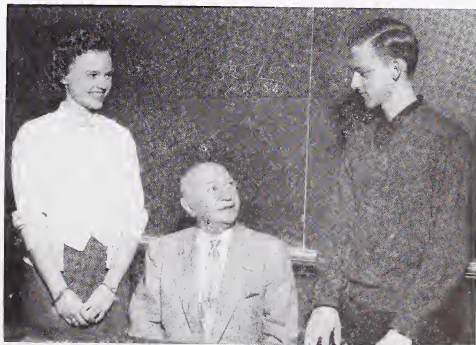

The programs for the club meetings are varied and interesting. Guest speakers, games, French art, French food and customs, and cultural material have been some of the ones this year.

The purpose of the club is to help the students have a better understanding of the French people and their customs through knowledge of what the people are like.

The officers for the second year club are Peggy Holder, president; Barbara Shore, vice-president; Bruce Brooks, secretary; and Henry Heitman, treasurer. The first year presidents are Norris Horwitz and Raymond Ebert.

Tennille, J. Chatham, H. Elkins, E. Wall, B. Morrow, S. Sosnik, B. Combs.

The Debating Club elected the following officers for 1954-1955: Hank Elkins, president; Emerson Wall vice-president; Linda Cash, secretary; and Brenda Combs, treasurer. Each Thursday morning the club met and heard orations, speeches, and debates given by various members. In addition many of the speech enthusiasts participated in the school's forensic contests. The club aided in the sponsorship of the Caroline District National Forensic League Student Congress, in which Emerson, Hank, Brenda, Simon Sos-nick, and Bill Morrow were senators and representatives. The varsity debaters were chosen from a large field in January and these four represented Reynolds in interscholastic debates. The rest comprised the junior varsity squad. Mrs. Garrison was the sponsor of the group and debating coach. She aided and supported us enthusiastically. During the year Emerson won the Reynolds World Peace Contest and Hank was victorious in the "I Speak for Democracy" contest.

PRINT SHOP

Sometimes when you find yourself wandering around on the first floor and suddenly there comes to your ears sounds terrifying enough to be coming from an "atom smasher" you know the print shop boys are at it again. They produce hundreds of Reynolds tags, report cards, football programs, tickets for various functions, and many other useful articles. Their big project the printing of the annuals for Reynolds, Gray, and Hanes High Schools, is a seemingly unending task; but despite all of this they produce them. They assemble the annuals, print them, and even do the binding. Nearly 2500 annuals are produced in this manner every year.

Helping and advising the boys in this work is Mr. Walter Montross. He replaced Mr. Dale Vaughn and has done a fine job while serving in the capacity of head of the printing department. He admitted that he was somewhat bewildered and overcome by the amount of work that R. J. R. print shop turns out in one year. He said, however, he soon accustomed himself to this and has on repeated occasions praised the boys for the zeal and ability in overcoming this handicap.

The twenty-two boys taking printing this year do so for three periods a day; they spend the rest of the day taking subjects such as English and math. Boys wishing to graduate with full printing credits must take it for four years. This year there are nine first year students, five second year, eight third year, and two fourth year students participating in the printing program. These boys will receive valuable experience while serving in the print shop and upon graduation will be able to work in one of the many printing companies throughout the surrounding area.

FOOTBALL

Short in man-power but long in determination and will to win were the Black Demons of 1954. With a line averaging under one hundred-sixty pounds per man the boys from Demon Hill came up with a city championship and a tie for second place in the A. A. Western Conference.

The State shampionship fever seemed to be spreading over the city as the team gained momentum with Asheville, and Salisbury.

The trip to Greensboro seemed to be the deciding game in the conference. Thousands of Demon fans traveled to see the game. However, the Whirlies' weight and experience proved to be the difference as the Demons went down in defeat. Another trip, another loss, this time at the hands of Gastonia. Back home and back to their winning ways, the Demons beat Mineral Springs, followed by a loss at Charlotte Central and a finish with a strong victory over High Point.

Co-Captains Bill Pfefferkorn and Dick McNeill lead the Demons on the field.

Second Row: H. Harris, W. Watford, B. Reed, J. Chatham, B. Dennis, J. Legette.

Jim Spach scores with a hook shot.

The Black Demon basketball team, having a year of rebuilding, had a rough season. The Demons opened the season by trouncing Hanes, but inexperience took its toll as the season rolled on.

Despite many defeats the games were close and exciting down to the last minute. The team was dominated almost completely by Juniors and next year should be an altogether different story. Players Richmond Rucker, Jerry Alley, Speedy Satterfield, and Freddie Lane should provide a strong nucleus to the team next year.

Jim Spach and Bob Reed, Co-Captains, work the ball in against Greensboro.

GRAY PROPHECY OF THE CLASS OF '55

Having borrowed Dr. Wonmug's time machine, we are able to look into the future and see what lies ahead for the Gray High Class of '55. Dr. Wonmug has the dial set for 1980. His assistant, Oscar Boom, has the destination pointer set for Winston-Salem. Having checked all dials and calculations, Doc throws the switch, and Alley Oop and I disintegrate into the future!

Arriving in the fifth dimension, we land on the only green spot in Winston-Salem, the Gray High Circle, which is kept in top shape by the chief groundskeeper, Robert Benton. His crew of paper reclaimers, Bobby Weatherman, John Denham, Joe Choplin, and Gid Woodard are busy around the office of Jon Ted Tally, Principal of Gray High School. Gray now consists of ten atomic-powered, suspended, space buildings, designed by that noted architect, Harold Lanning, and built by the Parrish Boys Construction Company, owned and operated by Doug and George.

While standing on the circle gazing at this majestic sight of suspended glass and glue, Alley and I are sucked into a spin by what seemed to be the younger sister of Hurricane Hazel. As we come out of the spin, we find that it's not a hurricane but only Charles Essic trying out a new Rocket 999 on his old proving grounds. He is the head rod knocker for the Patsy Tyrrell Rocket 999 Cool Rod Company.

Having asked Charlie to take us over to the plant, we see several other old "Gray Grads." In the gear department we find the chief gear jerker, Doris Shamel, helping Sandra Rose scrape gears. The Rocket 999 is the only car that has pre-scraped gears for women drivers. It also comes with an automatic scratcher for drivers who are economical but love to hear the sound of scratching tires. In the scratching department the big wheel is Raymond Hege and some of the little ones are David Calloway, Deryll Clark, and John Ferguson.

While touring the executive office we run into the "Liberace" of the automatic typewriter, Dean Howard. Busily lighting his candelabras are Peggy Atkinson and Peggy Martin.

As we are about to leave the Tyrrell factory, a Board of Directors meeting breaks up, and emerging from the Directors' room are Patsy, Dora Everhart, Paul Shoaf, Allen Mills, and playboy Willis Carter, who invite us out to one of Salem's better night clubs, the King Utt, located on the beautiful banks of Salem Creek.

Having made plans to meet Willis, we got into a Brown Cab, owned by Gene, Joyce, and Rita. It is parked in a zone for the Blue Buzzard Cab Company, operated by Johnny Lasley, mayor of Winston-Salem. The cabbie, Elizabeth Locklare, tells us that the Board of Aldermen are meeting tonight with the Mayor; while Alderman Leslie Brendle, Robert Walker, Shelby Smith, and the Joneses, Bill and Bobby, will side with the Browns.

As we round the Parkview Circle, we catch a glimpse of our destination—the beautiful Hotel Staley, formerly Staley's Grill. This luxurious resort hotel is owned by Jo Ann and her partners, Joan Lee, and Peggy Teague, who have a chain of Staley Hotels all over Winston-Salem. The one on Stratford Road is operated by David Walker and Max Yontz, while the one on Reynolda Road is operated by Bill Lancaster and Ernest Peacock.

As the cab stops in front of the hotel, the door is opened by Leonard Rubin, chief door slammer, who summons a couple of his "Southern belle" hops, Ann Aaron and Ann Charles, to carry our bags in. At the desk we are greeted by the manager Jimmy Bean, who sends us to a suite overlooking the enormous hundred-lane All Girl Bowling Alley, operated by Doris Lemons and Shirley Day. Setting up pins are pin-up girls, Julia Gorsuch, Wanda Hester, Rita Reich, Janelle Shuford, and Merlyn Wishon.

Before dressing for dinner, we decide to take one of Staley Hotels' famous "dry showers," based on Wesley Willard's Law of Dehydrated Water, though some think this invention is "all wet."

For dinner we dine at the Cafe a la Bledsoe, owned by Phillip. The head waiter, Howard Morgan, lights a torch and leads us to our table, where we order spiced chicken, chef Tony Alexander's speciality.

While gazing around the room, I notice the famous detective "South Boston Blackie," Harvey Stanfield, looking for his undercover man Ted Sattenfield, who is working under the tables.

The State Deer's Club is having its annual convention in Winston-Salem. Among the members present are Jane Roberts, Claudia Williard, Jo Ann Rule, Sandra Howard, Sylvia Ernst, Tommye Jean Holcomb, and Jo Ann Branch. By a strange coincidence the Moose's Club meeting is being held at the next table. President Jerry Fulp is demonstrating his cow call to fellow members, Gary Carter, Paul Baynes, Alton Holcomb, Charles Spann, Bobby Knouse, Ray Wright, Gary Newsome, and Ray Goforth.

Dinner music is being presented by that talented artist-composer Dee Ann Dorset. As some say that she will set the world on fire, Fire Chief Jimmy Rose is around, just in case. She is playing a Holland Organ built by Dale. The music instead of going through pipes goes through cigarettes, and Dee Ann really has them smoking!

After having an enjoyable dinner, we are presented with the check by the waiter, Billy Troutman. As I am about to pay the cashier, I discover that I have lost my billfold. But banker Jack Yoder informs me that the world had run out of gold years ago, and the Gatewood Law, written by Senator Horace Gatewood, was passed stating that the world is now on the hair standard, human hair being a dollar an inch. Alley and I realize that we are millionaires along with Gwen Barrington, Mickey Draughn, Ora Lee Reynolds, and Mary Tamer. Cashier Shirley Hoover, with her hair rule and scissors, "clips" me for ten dollars. As she grasps it, I tell her to smooth my hair and keep the change.

As we are leaving we see Doctor Don Stovall waiting for his chauffeur Ray Caudill to take him back to the Nancy Faust Memorial Hospital. Since the King Utt Club is close to the hospital, we hitch a ride with Don.

Stepping out of Don's car, we find ourselves on a conveyer, which ushers us from the street into the lobby of the King Utt Club. This invention by Joan Milton and Martha Wilson really attracts the average passers-by—in fact it brings them in! Welcoming us are the proprietors, Virginia King and Betty Sue Utt, who introduce us to the members of the string quartet—Harold Cole, Donald Harris, Don Dillon, and Charles Hemrick.

Virginia informs us that Willis has already arrived and is waiting for us at the table, I see that Willis hasn't been wasting much time. He is surrounded by beautiful Wanda Fishel, Jo Ann Lawrence, women! I recognize Kay Becker, Sue Little, and Shirley McCall. Sitting down, I ask Shirley, the editor of the "Daily Gossip," owned by Jo Ann Swaim, what some of my old friends are doing. She tells me that Charles Styron and his assistants, Jo Ann Terrell, Wayne Cody, and Dona Alspaugh, are on a scientific expedition counting the number of steps it takes to cross the United States. Mary Rose Yontz and Betty Widener, two famous track stars are doing the walking for Charles hoping to break the old record set by Mary Biles, who walked it in thirty days.

Shirley also informs me that pro-football players, Bill Ellington, Ronnie Caudill, and Larry Lakey are in the Canadian League. These boys have their own personal water boy, Walter Cole, who has kept his nose to the bucket all these years.

Joe Hemrick has just started on a rocket trip to the moon. His crew consists of Betty Crawford, Shelby Bates, Peggy Carter, Rosa Lee Donevant, Jacquelyn Cannon, and Almeta Lunsford.

Speaking of rockets, Montine Young and her "Rockettes" are beginning their fifth year at the King Utt. These Rockettes, consisting of Phyllis Spry, Carolyn Holt, Rose Fish, Mary Ann Reece, Janet Sattenfield, Janie Sloop, and Sylvia Nance are dancing to the supersonic music of Paulette Harrison's Sound Waves. The orchestra is now playing the Number One tune in the nation. The lyrics for this song were written by Joan Harley; and the music, by Janet Hilton.

While listening to this lovely music, we are interrupted by Shelba Elliot, who has just received a message from Dr. Wonmug on her Century-matic Brain Machine. As Doc wants Alley back to make the deadline for the evening edition, we take one last look at the whistling eighties and decide that 1955 isn't so fast after all!

GRAY HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '55

Excitement, curiosity, and pride reigned that day in September of 1951 when the two hundred eighty graduates of the eighth grade fully became a part of the high school organization. Becoming known for their work in their homerooms were board members Gwen Barrington, Ann Charles, Peggy Teague, and Bill Ellington.

Helping to run the school departments were superintendents Don Stovall, Horace Gatewood, Joan Milton, and Jo Ann Lawrence. Montine Young held the office of assistant secretary of the student organization.

A certificate of merit was awarded to Joe Hemrick for his project in the first North Carolina Project Fair. Making themselves known in sports were Bill Ellington, Harold Cole, Jim Bean, Ronnie Rierson, Jim Rose, and Dean Howard. Johnny Lasley was the only freshman tapped into the Hi-Y Club.

Coming through that first year with flying colors, the class became even more active during the sophomore year. Helping to keep their homerooms informed on board happenings were Patsy Tyrrell, Doris Lemons, Gwen Barrington, Elizabeth Guinn, Joan Milton, Janelle Shuford, and Harold Cole. Doing their share of the work of the board were Montine Young, recording secretary; and Bill Ellington, assistant secretary.

Members of the G.A.A. included Shirley Day, Ora Lee Reynolds, Janelle Shuford, Doris Shamel, Carolyn Holt, Dee Ann Dorsett, Sandra Rose, Doris Lemons, Mary Rose Yontz, Paulette Harrison, Wanda Fishel, and Martha Wilson. Carrying the load of the junior varsity football team were Bill Ellington, Don Stovall, Bobby Jones, Jimmy Rose, Harold Cole, Gary Newsome, Larry Lakey, Alton Holcomb, Ronnie Rierson, and Leslie Brendle.

Some of the honors which various members won were the following: majorette, Ora Lee Reynolds; winner of the World Peace Contest, Gwen Barrington; first place in the safety slogan contest, Rose Fish; "On the Beam," Elizabeth Guinn, and winner in the Americanism and Alcoholism Contests, Sandra Rose.

Inducted into the Masque and Gavel were Jimmy Rose and Joyce Brown; into the Key Club were Bill Ellington, Harold Cole, Charles Styron, Harold Lanning, and Don Stovall; and into the Hi-Y were Jimmy Rose, Harold Cole, John Denham, Bill Ellington, and Don Stovall.

As juniors, the members of the class accepted larger and more important responsibilities. Jimmy Rose was elected president of the junior class. Serving with him were Jimmy Lasley, vice-president; Peggy Atkinson, secretary; and Richard Reynolds, treasurer.

Because of their outstanding character, leadership, scholarship and service Shirley McCall, Martha Wilson, Wanda Fishel, Sandra Rose, Gwen Barrington, Patsy Tyrrell, Doris Lemons, Dora Everhart, Shirley Hoover, Elizabeth Guinn, Jo Ann Swaim, Joan Milton, Jimmy Rose, John Denham, and Charles Styron were inducted into the National Honor Society.

Chosen to lead the seniors of 1954 down the aisle on that all-important occasion of graduation were Peggy Atkinson, chief, Shirley McCall, Montine Young, Carolyn Holt, Dee Ann Dorsett, and Elizabeth Guinn. Holding offices in the student organization were Sandra Rose, corresponding secretary, and Bill Ellington, vice-president.

Charter members of the newly-organized Monogram Club were Ronnie Rierison, Deryll Clark, Johnny Lasley, Harold Cole, Gary Carter, David Calloway, Don Stovall, and Larry Lakey. Robert Benton, Bill Jones, Doug Parrish, and Gary Carter were inducted into the Hi-Y, while David Calloway, Robert Benton, Johnny Lasley, and Jimmy Rose were taken into the Key Club.

Winning honors for their words in rhythm were David Calloway, Martha Wilson, Sandra Rose, John Denham, and Julia Gorsuch, whose poems were published in the city and national anthologies.

Carolyn Holt and Mary Rose Yontz were officers of the G.A.A.. Leading the support for the athletic teams were Montine Young, chief, Carolyn Holt; Dee Ann Dorsett; Shirley McCall; Janie Sloop; and Virginia King.

Numbered among the members of the Masque and Gavel were Elizabeth Guinn, Robert Benton, Harold Cole, and Sandra Rose. Quill and Scroll members were Mary Tamer, Patsy Tyrrell, Martha Wilson, Wanda Fishel, Dora Everhart, Sandra Rose, and Shirley McCall.

Elizabeth Guinn and Shirley McCall were our representatives on the debating team; Elizabeth Guinn was selected as the D. A. R. Good Citizen Representative; and Joan Milton along with Charles Styron received the "On the Beam" honor.

Coming into the home stretch, we finally received the chance to assume the duties and responsibilities of seniors. The officers elected to lead our class were Harold Cole, president; John Denham, vice-president; Montine Young, secretary; and Bill Ellington, treasurer.

Blue and White were chosen to be our class colors; carnations, our flower; and "Whatsoever a man soweth that shall he also reap," our motto. For her help and guidance during our high school days, Mrs. Grace James was chosen for our Blue and Gold dedication. Playing a large part in our senior activit-

GRAY LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT OF THE CLASS OF '55

We, the seniors of 1955, realizing the inevitable death of our class is drawing nigh, wish to surrender a few cherished belongings in order that fragments of our illustrious past might be preserved. We do therefore will to the fortunate recipients a few priceless intangibles which rendered our class unique in its personality.

ARTICLE

Section I

To Mr. Woodward, our beloved principal, whose unselfish interest in our class inspired so many of us to keep up the fight when the going got rough, we leave the mark of excellency and also our worn and tattered record book with the hope that he can find therein at least a few of his expectations fulfilled.

Section II

For their untiring and invaluable guidance, which now enables each of us to face with confidence the world to come, we offer our teachers all the gratitude we possess and implore them to forget our former delinquencies.

Section III

We leave our experience to the deserving Junior Class that they may make better use of their opportunities than we.

ARTICLE II

Section I

Charles Styron for the sake of humanity wills his brain to Einstein to solve the final steps in that highest of all concepts, S. A. S. equals S. A. S.

Section II

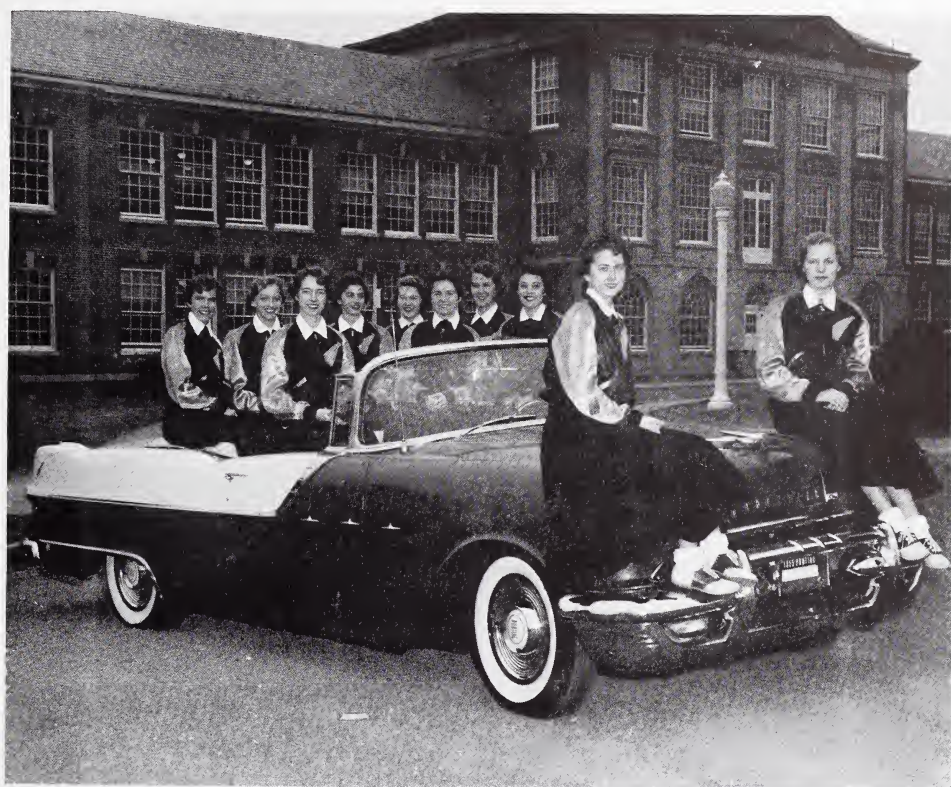

Joyce Brown and Dee Ann Dorsett present their Oscar Awards for theatrical skill to Doris Speas.

Section III

Robert Benton leaves his rich, deep voice to next year's Demosthenes.

Section IV

Lelsie Brendle wills fifty pounds to Tim Murray, who needs a little more external fortitude to play football.

Section V

Willis Carter would like to will something, but he needs every pound he has.

Section VI

Wesley Willard leaves to Buddy Dorsett his ability to formulate brilliant theories on the workings of a teacher's mind.

Section VII

Martha Wilson does hereby bequeath her masterful command of the English language to Shakespeare.

Section VIII

Bill Jones ruefully surrenders his formula for peacefully engaging in slumber during class to Tommy Essic.

Section IX

Shirley Hoover wills her grave and reserved demeanor in class to Hazel Merriman.

Section X

Shirley Day and Mary Rose Yontz bestow unto next year's speedball team part of the vitality and spark they had while playing.

Section XI

Leonard Rubin and Ray Wright, who now become full fledged Rebels, leave their brogues to the Yankees.

Section XII

Lib Guinn commits her serenity and sincerity to Patsy Burchette.

Section XIII

Horace Gatewood offers Clyde Bovender his elegant shock of hair.

Section XIV

Shirley McCall leaves her quick wit and graceful charm to Belva Rumley.

Section XV

Patsy Tyrrell leaves her swanky limousine to Miss Kathleen Hall for the use of the school.

Section XVI

Montine Young leaves her place at the end of all lists to someone named Zzyxania.

ARTICLE III

Section I

This document we proclaim to be our Last Will and Testament. Since we shall be gone, we entrust the enforcement of this covenant to Mrs. Grace James.

In witness thereof, we affix our seal this fourth day of June, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and fifty five.

HANES PROPHECY OF THE CLASS OF '55

"Well, Jerry, here we are in the Atomic Age with all its rocket ships, push-button gadgets, and supersonic egg-beaters. We have come a long way since that day in June when we were graduated from dear ole Hanes Hi. Didn't we have fun as editors of our high school publications? And, now, Jerry, it's grand to learn that you are editor-in-chief of Life Magazine."

"Thanks, but Barbara you seem to be rather successful yourself as the editor of the New York Times. I'm glad we thought of the idea of having our class reunion at this quiet out-of-the-way park, on the outskirts of the planet Earth."

"Yes, that's right. Mars is a very nice place for a class picnic, and since it is Interplanetary Space Week, we couldn't have chosen a better time to have it. It has been such a long time since graduation. Just think 1955, and here it is 1975."

"It seems like a century, doesn't it? I'm glad we thought of having our classmates wear their original class day clothes of 1955. I hope we don't look too funny. We certainly had a hard time, as sponsors of this reunion, getting everyone notified."

"I should say so: I called Clinard's Hot Rod Rocket Ship Garage, owned and operated by Larry Clinard, about six times. Answering the latest and most modern invention since the telephone, the telotalk, invented by William Southern, was Lummie Stillie, an expert on rock-ets."

"Let's take a walk around the park and see who's here. Look over there, seated on the sof-o-comfort is Frances "Pixie" Sides, designer of those adorable Pixie Space Hats. And isn't that Sue Hightshoe and Nancy Carroll, well-known originators of that famous perfume Sue-Nan? Let's walk on and see who else has arrived. Say, here comes a rocket now; let's see who gets off. Oh, here comes Mary Katherine Tullock, famous interior decorator, with her staff! Sandra Martin, personal secretary; Jo Ann Dunlap, stamp licker; Alice Manuel, color chart expert; and Shirley Howard, color chart expert number two."

"What's this? A red, yellow, and green rocket ship is just stopping. Who do you suppose could be inside? It must be a ship of dignitaries. Well, I was right. Walking down the long red carpet is Jerry Brinegar, ping-pong champion of Pluto; Toso Hauser, Millionaire Texas Oil-man;

"Say, let's see what's going on over there. A large crowd seems to be congregating. Oh, it's Joy Anders, secretary of our graduating class, now coaching cheerleaders at the Outer-Space Planet University, who seems to be the one attracting all the attention. She is calling the roll: isn't it grand that the class was able to get here? Since all the preliminaries are over, let's begin our class picnic of 1975."

"Hum-m-m this food is really delicious. I see on the menu that it was prepared under the supervision of Mattie Hagan, who is owner of the famous Hayes-Cromer Restaurant, named after those famous world travelers, Barbara Hayes and Carolyn Cromer."

"Say, everyone seems to be having a swell time, especially Eva Bodenheimer, who is now an opera singer on Jupiter. Her agent, Eleanor McGee, seems to be enjoying the occasion also, sipping Blalock's apricot float made by Lee Roy Blalock. She's using a Chunn Straw, manufactured by Larry Chunn, famous straw designer."

"Let's take a look at the program and see who is listed as talent. I see that the program is directed by Margaret Lindsay, famous director of that hit play "Four Girls Face Space", starring Pat Martin, Carol Carter, Joan Warren, and Iris Styers."

"I see appearing on the program also are Pat Fulk, Arsula Caudle, Maureen Clark, Donise Davis, and Frankie Smith, singing that popular ballad, "The Man Winked and the Elevator-Girl Took Him Up" and also on the program I see that Jimmy "Cat" Poe and George "Cool" Stainback are going to tap dance to "Shake, Honey Love Baby." As vocal talent we are to hear Joyce Kiser, singing "It Takes Two To Shag", accompanied by Eugene Wright and his one-piece orchestra.

"After Joyce's song comes some informal talks by Bill Johnson, Don Hudspeth, Lewis Peacock, and Kimmie Tutterow, who recently were voted All-Universe while playing in the Soup Bowl."

"Across the table, isn't that Don "Pine-Cone" Beck, famous forest ranger; Loretta White, the newly-crowned Miss Universe; Rachel "Speedy" Andrews, shorthand expert and professor at Gregg University; and Vernon "Punchy" Pritchett, outstanding boxer enjoying

"Is there a doctor here? I think it's coming from the other end of the table. Look who's getting up from his seat! It's Doctor Ronald B. Sparrow and his capable assistant, Charles Mitchell, male nurse helping to revive Peggy Kreger who had finally passed out from exhaustion from being too friendly."

"This has been an exhausting day. I'm tired, let's go to our rocket ships to rest a while before the dance tonight."

(Four hours later.)

"Barbara, I see you made it back to the dance. I was just looking at Robert King, Lonnie Martin, and Richard Weatherman, those famous businessmen dancing. They are managers for Wright's Space Service Stations, owned by Doug Wright, who specializes in Go-Forth Rocket Fuel, refined by Bill Goforth, wealthy oil heir."

"I notice that we have featured on the dance program Jack Fearington, Vocalist, and Don Cope, Delano Eads, Chestney Eubanks, and Jerry Harding, top ballet performers. Doing the popular dance, Will-Ben, originated by those two celebrated dance artists, Carol Williams and Jane Benbow, are Becky Leamon and Charlotte Minton, who are now on the faculty of E. F. Childress High School, named after Elisha Childress, prominent executive.

"Look, there's a large commotion on the other side of the room. The crowd is parting! There's Carolyn Blackwood, Red Cross Planet Director, who's telling of her thrilling exploits on the Planet Mercury."

"Listening attentively are Willa Tucker Brown and her four sons. Now that her boys are in college, Willa Lee has taken the place of Betty Furness, on the show "Beneath the Crust of an Old Apple Pie," directed by Fred Leitch."

"Jerry, it's getting late. I suppose the pilots are about ready to blast off to Earth. Oh, I hate to leave since this is the first time we have all been together in twenty years."

"Let's take one last look around the dance floor. Barbara, there's Elsie Hiatt and Gaynell Simpson, outstanding Toothpick Designers, who seem to be getting some souvenirs of the class reunion."

"They're motioning for us to hurry. All good things come to an end, and I suppose we had better get back to New York and resume our responsibilities as editors of our publications. Those editorials don't write themselves, you know!"

"Don't I know it!"

HANES HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF '55

The year 1951 stands out in the minds of members of the class of '55 as it meant that we are now a part of Hanes High. We did not know, of course, what the years would hold, but we all had hopes and big dreams. It took us quite some time to get use to the big halls, changing classes, and swinging doors, but soon we were holding our own with the best of them.

During the freshman year, clubs held an interest for many of us. Jimmy Poe represented us in the Senior Council, Vernon Pritchett, George Stainback, and Don Beck joined the Latin Club. Eugene Wright and John Baxley were members of the band, and Joyce Kiser was Majorette. Alice Manuel and Jane Benbow participated in chorus work. Toso Hauser was chosen a member of the Key Club, and Joan Warren, among others, participated in dramatic club programs. Carol Carter was elected Treasurer of the Y-Teens.

Sports claimed a few of the boys and girls. Larry Chunn and Bill Johnson made varsity football; William Southern and Douglas Wright made varsity baseball; Mattie Hagan, Barbara B. Hayes and Loretta White played softball.

At the end of the year, in voting for the most outstanding freshman the faculty bestowed the honor upon Bill Owens.

We were glad when June came around, for we were sure that we deserved a rest. But soon September was here again, and this meant the beginning of another school year.

As sophomores we were more adjusted to high school life. Carolyn Blackwood won first prize for her essay on Alcoholism, with Barbara Barlow winning second and Joy Anders third place. Barbara Barlow, Frances Sides and Carolyn Blackwood played varsity basketball, and along with Carol Williams and Mattie Hagan were made members of the G.A.A.

Three of our students joined the Journalism Department, Barbara Barlow and John Baxley, as sports editor of the paper, and Willa Lee Brown as Jr. Editor of the annual. Summer again brought fun and relaxation.

When we returned as Juniors, we realized that school life must be taken more seriously because of the added responsibilities which we must assume.

We elected as Jr. Class Officers: Don Beck, President; Barbara Barlow, Vice-president; Jane Benbow, Secretary; and Kimmie Tutterow, Treasurer.

Carol Williams, Joy Anders, Bill Owens, Rachel Andrews, Don Beck, Jane Benbow, Nancy Carroll and Becky Leamon, having met the requirements, were inducted into the National Honor Society.

Some of the boys who became members of the Hi-Y were Kimmie Tutterow, George Stainback, Larry Chunn, Jimmy Poe, Fred Leitch, Charles Mitchell, Toso Hauser, Bill Johnson, and Lewis Peacock. Jerry Brinegar was chaplain.

Joan Warren, Jerry Hutchins and John Baxley were inducted into the Masque and Gavel.

Carolyn Blackwood, John Baxley, Rachel Andrews, Barbara Barlow, and Jerry Hutchins became members of the Quill and Scroll. Carolyn Blackwood was also chosen to be our D. A. R. Representative.

Some of the girls joining the Future Homemakers of America were: Pat Fulk, Peggy Kreger, Sandra Martin, Maureen Clark, Arsula Caudle, Carolyn Cromer and Sue Hightshoe.

The Junior Red Cross representatives included Jerry Hutchins, Frances Sides, Joyce Kiser and Mattie Hagan. Carolyn Blackwood was elected city-wide school president of the Junior Red Cross, and was selected to serve on the Southeastern Area Council. She was one of only two representing the United States at the Canadian Junior Red Cross Training Center in Canada.

As a result of the election of school officials in the spring, Don Beck was elected Mayor; Bill Owens, City Manager; Ronnie Sparrow, Court Judge; and John Baxley, Monitor-in-chief for the year 1954-55.

A very thrilling experience for us as Juniors was the Junior-Senior Prom, when it was our pleasure to entertain the Seniors on the Balinese Roof of the Robert E. Lee Hotel.

When summer came this time we wanted to make the most of it for it could be the last in which we could look forward to high school. We knew when we returned we would be Seniors.

We were very sorry when we returned in September, to find that we had lost several members of our class. But we were glad to welcome Charlotte Minton from Miller's Creek High School to our group.

As our Senior Class Officers we elected Kimmie Tutterow, President; Charles Mitchell, Vice-president; Joy Anders, Secretary; and Carol Carter, Treasurer.

Class Day Officers elected were Barbara Barlow and Jerry Hutchins, Prophets; Willa Lee Brown, Historian; and Jerry Brinegar, Testator.

As Superlatives we chose: Don Beck and Joy Anders, Most Intellectual; Barbara Barlow and Bill Johnson, Most Athletic; Willa Lee Brown and George Stainback, Best Looking; Peggy Kreger and Toso Hauser, Friendliest; Carol Williams and Charles Mitchell, Best-All-Round; Carol Carter and Kimmie Tutterow, Most Popular; Joyce Kiser and Larry Chunn, Wittiest; Rachel Andrews and Bill Owens, Most Likely to Succeed.

When we resumed our activities, the College Club attracted about half the members of our class. These students were interested in learning more about college life. Officers were: Frances Sides, President; Jerry Brinegar, Vice-president; Peggy Kreger, Secretary; and Margaret Lindsay, Treasurer.

Because of their chosen field Lee Roy Blalock, Donise S. Davis, Shirley K. Howard, Robert King, Lennie Martin, Gaynell Simpson, Frankie Smith and Richard Weatherman were eligible for membership in the D. E. Club.

Barbara Barlow and Rachel Andrews were Co-Editors, and Frances Sides was Feature Editor for the HANES HIGH RADA. Willa Lee Brown was Editor-in-chief of the PURPLE AND GOLD, along with Carolyn Blackwood and Jerry Hutchins as Co-editors.

These honors paved the way for Frances Sides and Willa Lee Brown to membership in the Quill and Scroll.

Cheerleaders were Jo Ann Dunlap, Mary Cathryn Tullock, Joan Warren, Carol Carter, Jane Benbow, Iris Styres, Margaret Lindsay, Pat Martin, Joy Anders and Jerry Hutchins was Chief.

Loretta White was our Piedmont Bowl entry. Frances Sides and Sandra Martin were inducted into the National Honor Society, Joy Anders was elected President. Barbara Barlow was President of the G.A.A.

Now that we write the closing pages of the history of the class of '55, we look back and treasure each experience that has made our years so happy and so worthwhile. We feel a keen sense of sadness at leaving Hanes High and a deep appreciation of all that has been done for

HANES LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT
OF THE CLASS OF '55

We, the senior class of John W. Hanes High School, in this year of nineteen hundred and fifty-five, realizing that our day of departure is near, after twelve years of gallant struggle, being of able body but questionable mind, do hereby bequeath our meager but cherished possessions in this our Last Will and Testament.

To our beloved principal, Mr. R. S. Haltiwanger, we leave our deepest appreciation for his outstanding guidance and interest in our class, both as individual members and as a group, during our years at Hanes.

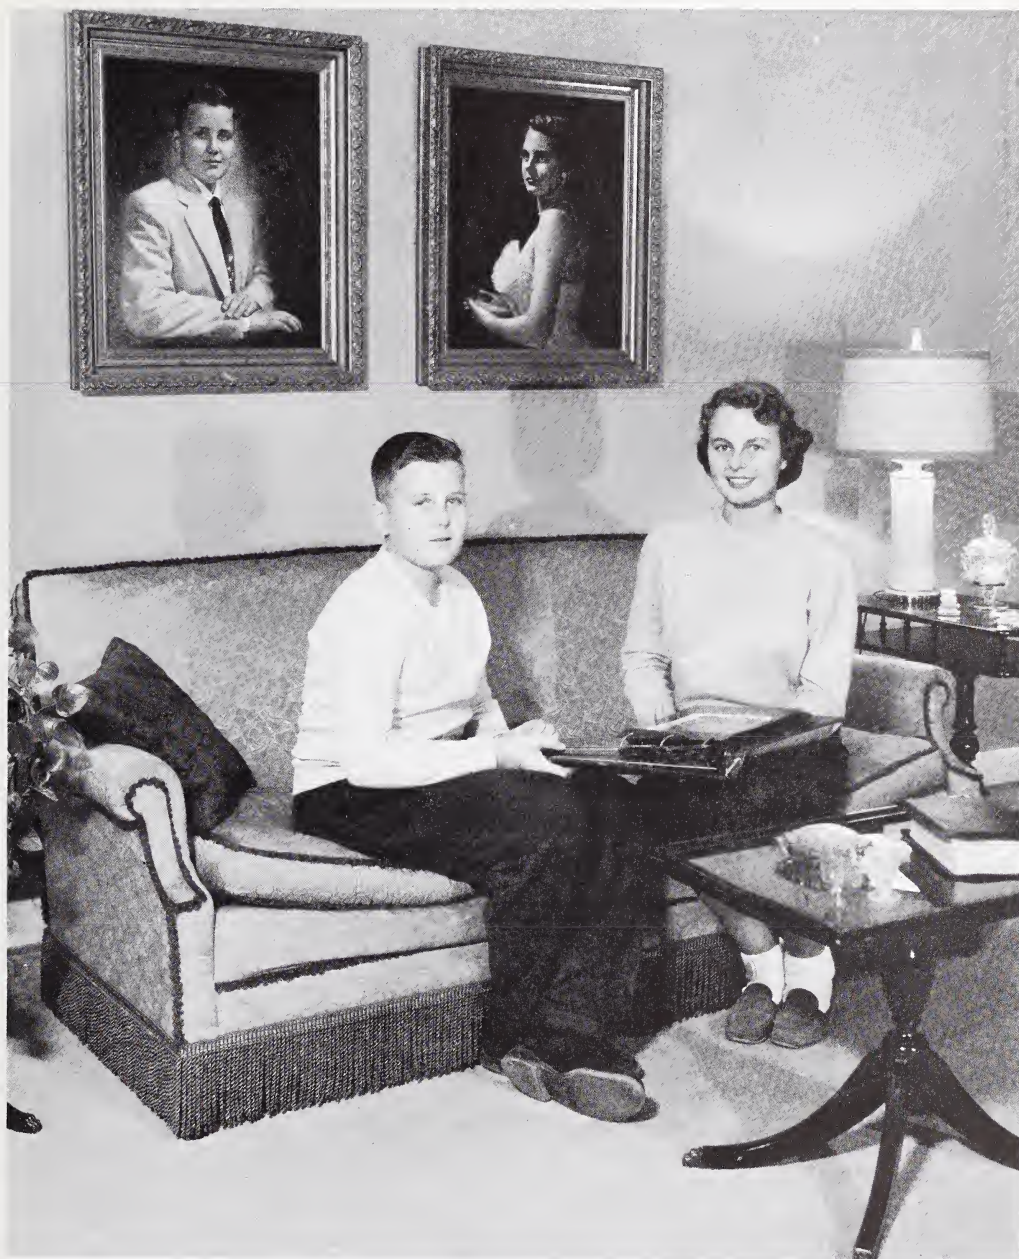

To Mrs. Stella Perry and Miss Ruth Ford, our senior sponsors, we wish to give our heartfelt thanks for their devoted attention and helpfulness which they gladly gave at all times. To them we also bequeath the rising seniors with the fond hope that they can reach the high standards set by our class.

To the entire faculty, we express our utmost gratitude for their unceasing efforts to make us wiser and better students. To our beloved coaches we leave some fine material in hopes that they can produce outstanding teams at Hanes in the near future.

To the rising seniors we leave our abundant homework with the hope that they will endeavor to uphold the tradition set by us, the Class of '55. It won't be easy! We leave them also our choice seats in the auditorium, urging them to fill them with the dignity befitting seniors.

Our unassuming mayor, Don Beck, leaves his intellectual and leadership abilities to the junior with the best qualifications.

Barbara Barlow leaves her gift of being both athletic and witty to Peggy Hill, who seems to be following in her footsteps.

Willa Lee Brown leaves her ability to ask far-fetched questions in Mr. Kelly's history class to Charlotte Brown and hopes that Charlotte will be able to understand the answers.

Bill Owens and John Baxley leave their participation in school activities to Jim Heath and Bill Hauser, who seem capable of following them.

Fred Leitch, Don Cope, and Lummie Stillie, three renowned members of the AAA, leave their incomparable driving ability to the safe-driving class.

Robert King leaves his uke playability to Larry Jones, who is progressing rapidly.

George Stainback leaves his good looks to Tommy Ratledge to aid Tommy in snowing the girls.

Toso Hauser and Jimmy Poe leave their famous football uniforms to Tommy Jones in the belief that he can fill both of them. Toso will throw in his cowboy hat for good measure.

Ronnie Sparrow and Jerry Hutchins leave their acting ability to the stars of tomorrow, Jerry Atkins and Dwight Cartner.

Pat Martin, Margaret Lindsay, Jo Ann Dunlap, and Mary Cathryn Tullock leave their enthusiastic school spirit and leather lungs to the future Hanes High cheerleaders.

Carolyn Blackwood leaves her majorette uniform to Nancy Hiatt, whose graceful high stepping is fast matching her own.

Eugene Wright bequeaths his fancy driving cushion (a pop crate) to Diane Thompson in hopes that she may set her sight higher, as he did.

Loretta White leaves her numerous beauty titles to Linda Chatman, who is doing pretty well on her own.

Barbara Bowles Hayes, Donise Shepard Davis, and Shirley Kirby Howard leave their dual roles of housewives and students to any unsuspecting lass who thinks she can fill both successfully.

Becky Leamon and Mattie Hagan leave their starting positions on the basketball team to Mary Wolfe and Kathryn Wheeling. Good luck, girls!

Pat Fulk and Sue Hightshoe leave their quiet ways and sincere interest in others to Dee Masencup and Mary Nell Leitch.

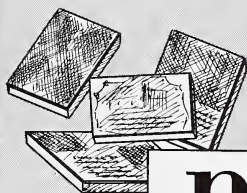

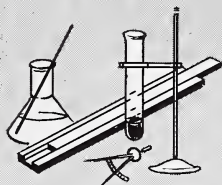

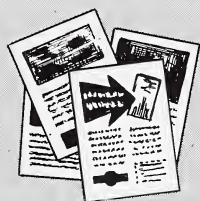

Delano Eads and Maureen Clark leave their gift of gab to Gerald Hampton and Virginia White.

Paul Rhodes, realizing that he is a big boy now, leaves his paper route to anyone ambitious enough to take over.

heimer leave their devoted companionship to Kay Caudle and Lynne Speer.

Carol Williams and Charles Mitchell leave their title of "Best All Around" to anyone who can fulfill the requirements, all views considered.

Frances Sides leaves her asthma to someone who has no allergies to call his own and vows that this will be breath-taking.

Chestney Eubanks, Lonnie Martin, and Vernon Pritchett leave their bewilderment in history to Ronnie Whitt, Howard Hudspeth, and Bob Adderton, with firm belief that they can't do any worse.

Sandra Martin leaves her high grades to brother Kent, so that he won't have to waste his time studying when he could be playing ball.

William Southern and Leroy Blacklock leave their sacred parking places to Eddie Burcham and Ray Woosley.

Jerry Harding and Bill Goforth leave their swell times in machine shop to Bill Bowles and Jerome Vestal.

Bill Johnson leaves his renowned athletic ability to Ray Tucker, who is off to a flying start.

Richard Weatherman and Frank Childress leave their super salesmanship to Gayle Miller and Ann Foltz, who could use their technique as D. E. students.

Lewis Peacock and Larry Chunn reluctantly leave their girl friends with subtle warning-keep away!

Joan Warren and Don Hudspeth leave their fun quarreling and making up to Jean Brown and Johnny Shields.

Jane Benbow and Nancy Carroll leave their sweet personality and neat appearance to Almeta Wall and Shelby Wood, who do not really need it.

Rachel Andrews leaves her ability to do a good job in all her undertakings to next year's newspaper staff so that Hanes will be kept in the public eye.

Joy Anders bequeaths her office as president of the N. H. S. to the person judged most suitable by other members of the Society.

Carol Carter leaves her amazing popularity to sister Judy, in order that it will be kept in the family.

Those adoring looks cast in his direction by the girls are hereby bequeathed to Bobby Knott by none other than Kimmie Tutterow.

Joyce Kiser leaves her adoration for male history teachers to Betty Jo Blackwood, who just adores male faculty members.

Bobby Brown bequeaths his fine physique to T. D. Shermer, who is about the same height but lacks the muscles.

Charlotte Minton leaves her ability to get acquainted quickly in a new school to Norma Knutton, who is making friends rapidly herself.

Peggy Kreger bequeaths her friendliness to Vicki Brinegar, in order that she may acquire more friends.

Carolyn Cromer leaves her wise-cracks in Home Ec to Penny Bryant.

Larry Clinard leaves his patented look of intelligence to Jimmy "Unconscious" Dorsett.

Elsie "Butch" Hiatt and Kathryn "Frankie" Smith leave their nicknames to Barbara "Stella" Bennett and Carolyn "Poncho" Austin. They think theirs are better.

Gaynell Simpson leaves her giggles in the auditorium to Jane Sweatman.

Alice Manuel bequeaths her height to Linda Hardie.

Arsula Caudle leaves her job in the cafeteria to Charlene Sparks in order that Charlene might gain some weight.

Iris Styers leaves her ability to wait for matrimony until after graduation to Carol Brown, who may need it.

Miss Helen Bickley, our wonderful friend and librarian, we do hereby appoint as executrix of this our Last Will and Testament.

In witness whereof we affix our seal, this sixth day of June, in the year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and fifty-five.

Time: 1999

Setting: Laboratory on the former site of R. J. R. High School

Characters: Five mad scientists

Julie: It is finished!

Nena: But I'll give that honor to any of you learned gentlemen. To be truthful, I'm afraid!

Julie: Enough of this lally-gagging. History has waited long enough for this moment. Let's be on with it.

Carolyn: Wait. Quiet, everyone! I hear a voice speaking, but I can't make out the names. It's coming in stronger now. Marcia Warford, Marilyn Fishel, Frankie Cunningham. It stopped; that's all.

Julie: Our machine is a success! It works!

Nancy: But what could those names mean?

Nena: They sound familiar to me. The sound waves came from the vicinity of Winston-Salem, North Carolina.

Nancy: That's it! Reynolds High freshman class officers. Tune in that area again.

Betsy: I'd like to hear more about our high school days. Here, let me turn up the volume for you.

Julie: I think I'm getting another election; it sounds like a group of boys this time. There is the name, our freshman Hi-Y. Remember those meetings? Joe Goodman, Lee Bryant, Ed O'Keefe, and George Agee are leading the group.

Nancy: We are getting large gatherings clearer than anything else. Let's see whether we can pick up anything about our freshman Y-Teens. I think I hear someone announcing faintly the officers. I caught the names of Julie Shore and Nena Walker.

Nena: Wasn't it our freshman year that Jim Chatham was elected to be our representative to the Council?

Carolyn: Yes, and Joanna Carter was a cheerleader, and Jim Spach made varsity football.

Betsy: Listen! I believe I have gotten a chapel program this time; I hear the band and the sound of many shuffling feet. Oh, this was the day Bruce Brooks won first prize in the School Spirit Speech Contest.

Carolyn: Ann Johnson was another one of whom we are proud. Do you remember when she tied for first place in the World Peace Speech Contest? We thought she and Bruce were so brave to get up in front of all the big seniors and give such fine speeches.

Julie: Yes, we didn't waste much time getting right into the busy hum of high school life.

Nancy: Let's set the machine at the year 1952 and see what we can find about our sophomore year.

Nena: Everything is set. Do you hear anything?

Betsy: I seem to be getting nothing but confusion, shrieks, falling chairs, and much scrambling. Now I hear a teacher. Oh, it's a biology class. Someone let his grasshopper loose, and nobody seemed to want to pick it up.

Carolyn: That means we have the sophomore year all right.

Julie: I hear a homeroom teacher making the announcements. Here are our class officers: Joe Goodman, president; Jim Chatham, vice-president; Renna McNair, secretary; and Jim Spach, treasurer.

Nancy: Listen to this: Enthusiasts in the field of speech are Susie White, Bruce Brooks, Hank Elkins, and Simon Sosnik."

Nena: I wonder where that could have come from. I remember that the first three were on our Jr. Varsity Debating Team.

Betsy: Simon won the I speak for Democracy Contest.

Carolyn: What are you so quiet about, Dr. Graves?

Nancy: I'm listening in on a meeting of the Sophteers. Julie Shore is appointing some committees to work on a new project of cleaning up the Huddle.

Julie: Yes, that club worked so hard, and two years later the Huddle was torn down to make room for the new lunchroom.

Nena: Jane Irby was chosen as a Hi-Y sponsor.

Julie: Have you found anything, Dr. Dickson?

Carolyn: Yes, I was trying to get in on a Hi-Y meeting, but this Y-Teen meeting seemed to drown it out. Marcia Warford is presiding and Frankie Cunningham is taking minutes, but I can't make out what they're doing.

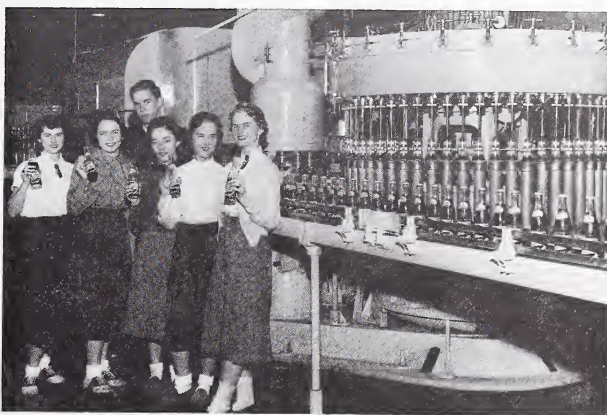

Nancy: Another organization that drew a large number of girls that year was the G.A.A. That club was the largest of its kind in the state.

Nena: I used to watch the intramural basketball games after school. Coleman's Cuties won the championship for three years straight.

Buzz! Clang! Much noise!

Nancy: Ho there, what's this? We came in right in the middle of a meeting. It seems to be the junior class. Marcia Warford is presiding and Gail Osborn is writing notes as fast as Mary Louise Coleman can dictate. The reason for the excitement is the announcement of the Senior Marshals.

Carolyn: It's not coming in too clear but it seems that Jo Anna Car-

Music at its best!

JIMMY MEYERS

FEATURING RUBY LEE

ORCHESTRA

REPUBLIC RECORDING ARTISTS
RADIO AND T. V. PERSONALITIES

ter was chief, Vicki Grubbs, alternate, and Yvonne Hampton, Carolyn Dickson, Shirley Denny, and Kay Crabtree are some of the others.

Julie: Heavens! My amplifier has moved some more. Could this be a student government meeting? It must be--I hear Joe Goodman, Knox Gardner, Jim Chatham, Renna McNair, and Pat Kelly loudly voicing their varying opinions.

Betsy: We are put on the landing now. Dick McNeill, the president of the Hi-Y looks panicky. He learned that he has to be in the Jr.-Sr. figure.

Nena: Remember what a dance that turned out to be? Art Mitchell was master of ceremonies. Bill Bonin and Jimmy Yarborough made an Eiffel Tower that a Frenchman couldn't tell from the real one.

Carolyn: No sound! Do you suppose that the osmosis tube of the Huccuperpickepergraph has split its atom? It's still quiet. But wait. I hear a candle burning. This must be the Honor Society induction. Bruce Brooks, Grace Wessells, Shannon Harper, and Susie White, who later became president, are among those clad in the usual white robes.

Nancy: This sounds like another induction. Betsy Fulp, future editor of Pine Whispers, Elizabeth Efird, Lou Linton, and Ann Griffin are being taken into Quill and Scroll.

Julie: We've jumped up another year. It's the fall of '54 and I believe we're at a football game. You remember, that's what students played before they had inter-plane tary ray gun competition.

Betsy: From the sound of the crowd, Jim Spach and Lee Bryant seem to be the gridiron greats. Hey, listen to that band. Do you recognize the mellow music of David Drummond, Danny Kimel, Ed O'Keefe, and David Dyer? Down on the field the twirlers, Bobbie Edwards and Janice Cornwall are entertaining the crowds. Henry Heitman and Ted Wainer are the drum majors.

Carolyn: "By the way the stands are yelling. Cheerleaders Nina Walker, Weezie Hill, and Marcia Warford are doing a good job.

Nena: What could this be? We weren't that noisy in school. I hear Bob Bender and he is presiding at the annual Thanksgiving program. The noise was the stacking of the cans on the stage. Taking part in the presentation of the turkeys are Jim Legette, with the S. S. C. turkey, Mickey Young with the band bird, and Margaret Nolan with the G.A.A. fowl.

Julie: My oscillating scope is picking up strange sounds. There's a shuffling of paper, and the mad scramble of newspeople. This must be the old journalism room.

Nancy: Let's turn the dial to the year 1956 and get more recent vibrations.

Betsy: Wait! I hear something. It sounds like a hammer!

Nina: No, it's a gavel. The static is cleared, and I hear a voice. It's a courtroom where a major argument is going on. The Filter-Tip Straw Company, owned by Robert Tuttle and headed by President Sandy Faulkner, with his associates, Dale Speight and Gordon Nifong, is being sued by Dick Buell, the recent broadways smash from the hit play, "North Atlantic," for ingluberation of the supposedly permeable membrane while drinking milkshakes. The counselor for defense is Eldridge Shumaker; Fred Smith is District Attorney.

Carolyn: It's fading out! A new noise is coming through. It's a gathering where people are cheering.

Nancy: Why, it's football! The Pumpkin Punters coached by Bob Evans and Wyndrell Sifford are playing Coach Ned Todd's team, the Blue-backed Bees. Two of the referees, Jim Harrill and Sandy Harper, are arguing over the legality of the last play. The play-by-play man for the game, Petey Spencer, is now telling the spectators about the opening of the new Winston-Salem Coliseum. One of the unusual acts is to be an ice-skating exhibition featuring Clifton Harvel, Barbara Harwood, Jebby Davis, and Betty Jean Hedrick. Julie: The machine has gone dead. Professor, see if you can contact anything with that little knob.

Nina: Sorry, gentlemen, I'm afraid we'll have to contact our rival laboratory and get Doctor Roderick Heard to fix it, because it just doesn't seem to be coming through. Professor Graves, add a little more vibration contractor, or super fuel, to see if that will help.

Betsy: Oh! It's really rocking now. Do any familiar voices reach your audionetwork?

Julie: Yes, and I hear someone that sounds like Marilyn Fishel. She's singing with the famed female trio, The Three Tones, consisting of Marilyn, Carol Bolick, and Jean Brown.

Carolyn: Where is this performance taking place?

Nancy: It is in the newly-finished "Samuel Johnson Recreation Hall", which is being operated by Helen Nicholson and Phyllis Williams. Here is another performance.

Betsy: This is the world-renowned ballet dancer, Anne Miller, who is giving a charity performance here in the Recreation Hall for the newly established home for the Played-out Musicians Society. Some of the inmates of this institution are Nancy Crouse, Alfred Hartman, and the famous team of Richard Matthews and Charles Miller. The first idea for the new home was Charles Brown's, who felt extremely sorrowful over the hard times of his dear friends.

Nina: Listen, gentlemen; I'm being switched to an entirely different locality. What in the universe could it be? Oh! I know now. We have been taken to Richard Whitman's Catchall Museum. Whose pictures do you suppose are the main exhibits? None others but our old school chum's Ernestine Wolfe's. You gentlemen remember Tommy Lehman, don't you? His award-winning photograph is on display now. Another ultra-modern artist whose entry also received first place is Carolyn Charles.

Nancy: I have just made a contact with a bank in a large town. Why, it's the Space Cadets' Security Bank, located in the great metropolis, Winston-Salem. Johnny Hondross, the president is adequately advised by his four vice-presidents, Charles Hutchison, Barbara Harp, Jean Knouse, and Albert Hattaway. Johnny's very efficient secretary, Sallie Hunter, is happily typing away at her usual speed of 250 words per minute.

Julie: There seems to be a great deal of static. Professor, see if you can remedy that. Oh! Now, that's just fine. I hear soft music.

Carolyn: It's a fashion show being held at the exclusive store, J. A. Andrew's Best and Co., Sonny Lacy, the manager, has certainly done a marvelous job in redecorating this store and now is giving a fashion show to exhibit his latest styles. Joan Honeycutt, Marilyn Pulliam, Martha Jean Brown, Penny Bell, and June Bostick are just a few of the many beautiful models. Monsieur Lacy has a staff of top stylists who help him design all of his beautiful clothes. David Goodrich, Tommy Douglas, and Johnny Mac Brewer are three of his most talented employees.

Nancy: I have just been switched to a great metropolitan newspaper office. This newspaper, the "Rocket Reporter," is edited by the renowned newspaper woman, Susan Masten. Susan is in a panic because her reporters haven't sent their stories in yet. Oh! here comes Lois Gallagher, the social reporter, with her story that William Saylor, the famous instructor at the Academy Julien in Paris, is in town now and is being entertained with a party given by Sue Denny, the popular choreographer. Lois also reports that Dr. Sally Pullen, president of Converse College is in town.

Nina: Johnny Jones, world news-reporter, brought in the story that Allie Hutchison has just won the Larry Carter Prize for Literature with his great book, Snook. Don Faust, Petey Laurence, and Jerry Adams are also in the news because of their extensive explorations into the Ancient Colony of Lizardmen. Johnny reports that Meb Turner, George Agee, and James Davidson have recently incorporated a company that will sponsor a safari to darkest Africa. Some of the brave women already loading their guns are Suzanne Taylor, Bunny Agee, Penny Sue Dodd, and Gracie Fulp. Three of the head hunters employed by this company are Robert Glenn, Scotty Simmons, and Ronnie Tuttle. Here's another report from Johnny that Bonnie Veitch, famous pharmacist, has just discovered a cure for broken hearts. Doctors Sally Ferrell and Barbara Shore assisted Dr. Vietch in her experiments. Special mention was made of Brad Brown, Larry Raker, Betty Zeh, and Jo Ann Cass, who sacrificed their hearts for the experiments.

Julie: I just heard over the teletype that Patsy Burke, Susan Reid, and Lou Carol Benton have recently returned to the United States after their colossal climb to the high plateaus of Egypt. I also heard that Don Maynard has been elected the new mayor of the thriving city of Reynolda. Don's city manager will be Carl Barkley, and the chief of the police Department will be Johnny Ingle. Assisting these men will be Jane Green, Charles Paschal, Walter Brown, who help to make up the Board of Aldermen and Women. Herbert Jewelle Wright, and Tommy Cress, Johnson, another man interested in civil affairs, has just been elected to the judgeship of Reynolda.

Nancy: What's that strange noise I hear? It sounds like a factory of some sort.

Betsy: It's the Chlorophyll Pipe factory, owned by Robert Davis, and Lois Katzin. Caroline Overcash, DuBois Speight, and Judy Jones are just a few of the many important people on the board of directors. Helping out with the salesmanship department are Gail Clodfelter, Sonny Sizemore, Barbara Green, and Carolyn Buie, all top salesmen of their day.

Carolyn: The voices are getting a little dim, Professor.

Nina: Maybe you'd better put more fuel in our Hickerupperpickerup-pergraph.

Nancy: The Strawinsphere must be clearing now. I hear sounds.

Julie: No, Doctor, you just accidentally gave the control gear a nudge. I guess that is what it needed. What can you hear?

Betsy: It's a low, mellow sound, the strains from a cello. SH-h-h, the announcer is saying something. Oh, this is Cornige Hall.

Nina: Yes, Clarence Russell is playing first chair tuning fork, and Dwight Whitlock and Jack Daniel are both playing trombone. Their capable conductor is maestro Hal Transou. Next week Mary Ann Shook, Jo Ann Carter, Wanda Gibson and Jerry Cook will make their debut in the Hall as the first quartet to sing in 3-D, high fidelity tones. The performance is already a complete sell-out.

Nancy: The music is too loud; turn down the amplifier. The machine must be picking up vibrations closer home. It sounds to me like the Nissen Building.

Carolyn: There is certainly a strange combination of sounds there. The foremost noise sounds like a dentist's drill.

Julie: Yes, most probably it is. I've heard that Doug Quate and Gary Tise have opened an office together. On the initial day B.Y. Womack, Frank Shaw, and Catherine Cheek volunteered to be their first patients.

Nina: Do you remember Martin's Beauty Salon where everyone used to go for those exciting Italian Boy Cuts?

Betsy: Vaguely! Hasn't Dewey Cugin opened in its place? It seems as if Doris Honeycutt is sporting one of the latest experiments—the Mexican Bowl Cut, and it has become so popular that Dewey has hired Dale Rumley, Bobby Killian, and C. E. Vaughn to help him. Cynthia Palmer is learning to keep the appointments straight, while Jane Julian is acting as a guinea pig for the new test curls.

Carolyn: The thirteenth floor has been made into a showroom for flower exhibitions. An assortment of gloomy-looking plants from Florida Glades has been chosen as the best arrangement. Daphne Howell, Nancy Hurst, and Ruby Burnette are staying down in the swamps to keep up a supply of fresh plants. Nancy: Incidentally, did you all hear about Ruthie Rhodes, Joan Earl, Pat Berrier, and Barbara Thrift testing the products of Kenneth Sykes and Jerry White's bicycle factory? The girls decided to take a tour of the New England states by bicycle. They wandered from the beaten track and were stopped by a Vermont State Patrolman, who proved to be none other than Robert Pardue. He directed them to the nearest restaurant where they were quickly fed by the owners and chief chefs, Frances Hopkins, Bessie Hall, and Don Arnold.

Julie: H'm-m-m, here's something new! This place sounds like some kind of studio.

Betsy: I hear it, too. It must be a radio station because I think I hear Barbara Kline giving her weather report.

Carolyn: The universally famous debaters, Becky Moore, Jane Noel, Barbara Schaefer, and Lynn Thomas have just been introduced. They will debate on the topic, "Should the U. S. Sponsor Space Ships to Mars?"

Nina: Let's listen some more. I hear a different program now.

We bring you now station WSAD and your favorite serial, "The Walking Stick Rebellion," straight from Ralph Sapp's thrilling episode of Fad Comics. Today Sam Brown, in the role of Captain Perry, will unravel the mystery of the meeting on Thomas Hege's ship, the Larry Foltz. You will find that what really happened was that Rita Perryman had mixed-up the pages of the log book, and time had been set back two weeks. Others in the story are Glenda Brittain, Kathryn Palarid, and David Stewart.

Nancy: While you're tuned to a radio station see if you can pick up the golf exhibition where the renowned Bucky Dennis won the Ed Pierce Open Golf Tournament. It was a close fight though, because Bucky was using a new technique. Tissie Webber and Mary Louise Harrell were caddies for the event.

Julie: I know what it is! Do you remember when Albert King and Ira Bumgardner dredged Peter's Creek and built a boat basin there? With the help of Joan Watson and Blanche Mabe they founded the Judy O'Connor Boat Club. Last year the sailboat races were held there. Some of the local entrants were Jane Ashburn, Toni Hatcher, and Mildred Painter. In the middle of the race Janet Smith's Sailfish overturned. The blame was put on one of the crew, Joan Faircloth, who lifted out the keel in the middle of the bay. We could find out what happened by contacting Peggy Holder or Jean Williams. They handle publicity for the club. Oh, incidentally, Di-Ann Cress runs the Peter's Creek Ferry.

Carolyn: This sounds like the roll of presses in a big newspaper office. I believe it is because the office boy, Bill Pfefferkorn, just ran by with a passel of copy for the printer, Doug Payne. Mona Cameron is the editor-in-chief and Nancy Turner, Bennie Wilmoth and Barbara Herman are reporters assigned to cover the remains of Bobby Randolph, Don Sennett, and Tommy Tiner's Do-It-Yourself Hydrogen Bomb Factory.

Nancy: I remember that all those people were pretty active in journalism at Reynolds. But wait, from the look on the face of Marcia Moody, the sports editor, she just got a hot scoop. Fred Smith just passed out as he crossed the finish line in the annual Inter-Special Twelve Mile Dash. He barely outdistanced Bob Rollins and Billy Weatherman, the only two to run the 12 second mile.

Nena: Senators Larry McCarn, Fred Katzin, and Nancy Strupe, the only one from North Afganistan, made the headlines. They are the only people who supported the bill of Ann Lee and Jackie Sheets to abolish Hubert Poindexter's Pizza Pie Monopoly. Carol White, Tommy Brightwell, and James Anderson, chief cheese and mushroom dribblers, testified in behalf of their boss. But wait the machine has jumped back and is picking up the '55 graduation. This must be the Last Will and Testament.

Last Will and Testament

Each husky lad and lovely lass
Of this our graduating class
Now looks back with smiles and tears
On the trials and triumphs of high school years.

Though to memories we'll always cleave,
To another class our gifts we must leave,
So this document we now present
As our Last Will and Testament.

ARTICLE I

Section I

We should have brought more apples, it's true,
To our teachers and Mr. Joyner, too,
For their help and guidance along life's way,

We'll be more grateful, day by day.
Our education must have been quite a task,
So from the faculty two favors we'll ask..
"Will you accept our appreciation,
And not be too happy at our graduation?"

Section II

Directing both our studies and fun
Were Mr. Barnette and Miss Stephenson.
To these sponsors, who have been the best,
We will our thanks and a well-earned rest.

Section III

To the juniors we leave our senior affairs
Plus our dark-circled eyes and multiple cares.
With duties and studies their heads
will be reeling,
But, nevertheless, it's a wonderful feeling.
They'll have privileges, honors, and fun galore;
They'll write compositions, read books by the score.
As through homework and studies
they wearily go,
The main thing they'll learn is how little they know.

ARTICLE II

Section I

Upholding the honor of our school,
Enforcing every Council rule,
Joe Goodman works with never a slip,
And Bill Taylor inherits his leadership.

Section II

Marcia Warford, our chief cheerleader,
Is friendly and capable, none can beat her.
Also one of cheerleading fame,
Sandra Walsh her winning ways will claim.

Section III

The finest athletes of our flock
Are Mary Louise Coieman and Jim Spach.
The great ability which they leave
Faye Harris and Ward McKeithan receive.

Section IV

Yvonne Hampton and Shirley Denny
Would like to leave their looks to many,
But since one's charms should not be divided,
On pretty Lynn Walker they've both decided.

Section V

George Hamilton and his guitar

Are known by people near and far.
Since no one can holler the way
George can,
He'll just leave "Old Calijah" to a hillbilly fan.

Section VI

Our Hank Elkins and Susie White,
Debaters of oratorical might,
Leave their speaking gifts to the brightest of all,
Judy Peterson and Emerson Wall.

Section VII

The Key Club and the S.S.C.
Leave the follies, goalposts, and club rivalry
To Ralph Asbury and Sam Mauzy
Who'll continue the club's traditional way.

Section VIII

As chief majorette, we've had Vicki,
Who has lead our band in steps
quite tricky.
On Pegg and Payne she now bestows
Her tall fur hat and twinkling toes

Section IX

Bob Reed's height is a great asset,
Which he would like Sybil Stewart to get,
And that would make everything
just fine
Cause guess who'd be tallest in the

"Madonna of the Storm"

by
JOSEPH WALLACE KING

"Yea, a sword shall pierce through thine own soul also, that the thoughts of many hearts may be revealed."—Luke 2:35

The young mother of Jesus is portrayed at a moment in which the forceful meaning of Simeon's prophecy breaks upon her. The cruel point of the sword seems already to press against her heart. The bleak tree, the ominous cloud of gathering storm suggest the black and terrible day of Calvary. In the distance there are trees, one that was years later to hold the pain-racked body of her child—to hold Him until He died, that in His dying we might live.

In so many fields did Julie Shore lead,
We voted her "Most Likely to Succeed."
Her poise, personality, leadership, too,
Are left not to one, but to all of you.

Section I

To see that these wishes are fulfilled,
To administer the things we have willed,

The Class of '55 now picks
Mrs. Elizabeth Ritter as Executrix.
